THE

AMERICAN SECURITY, CHICAGO, DAVENPORT & TEXAS RAILROAD

IS A FINISHED LINE

Running through one of the richest portions of Illinois, and connecting Chicago by the shortest route with the celebrated Block Coal fields of Indiana, and by way of Evansville and Nashville with the entire South. Its mortgage debt is $2,500,000, or about $12,500 to the mile. Although the road is but just opened, it is already earning, after all operating expenses are paid,

More than the Entire Interest on all its bonds While railroad bonds may be plenty, those upon finished and paying lines and for so small a sum to the mile, are seldom in the market.

We do not hesitate in recommend these Bonds as unusually safe. They are attended with none of the uncertainties of projected enterprises, and the prompt payment of the interest, and the final payment of the principal, are as certain as any future financial event.

The Bonds are for $1,000 each, have forty years to run, and bear interest at the rate of 7 per cent. per annum, payable on the first of April and October, both principal and interest being payable in gold in New York.

We are selling them daily to the most careful investors.

THE BRITISH COUNTER-CASE.

The following is a synopsis of the counter-case presented at Geneva by the agent on the part of Great Britain:

Part 1 begins by the announcing that to American imputations of hostile motives and insincere neutrality no reply whatever will be offered. England distinctly refuses to enter into a discussion of those insinuations, because it would be inconsistent with her self-respect, irrelevant to the main issue, and tend to inflame the controversy. England's governing desire is to fulfil, even exceed, her international duties. Nor will any reference be made to the claims for indirect damages, as correspondence with regard to them is pending between England and the United States. England assumes that the claims are limited to losses occasioned by the Florida, Alabama, Georgia and Shenandoah, but does not object to the introduction of the names of nine other rebel cruisers added to the list by the American case. She calls attention to the fact that none of these vessels had previously been mentioned. No award is possible for the depredations of the Boston and Sallie, which are in the list, but are not mentioned elsewhere in the case of the United States, and were probably inadvertently included. The Board of Arbitration is reminded that its conclusions must be formed on proofs, not allegations; and the evidence must be sifted. The statements of American Consuls are credible when made with regard to facts within their personal knowledge; but they are unreliable when dealing with rumors. The Consuls of the American Government, zealous to indiscretion, shared the irritability generated by the war, and erroneous views throughout the struggle colored their reports. England rejects as evidence the papers captured on the Richmond, their authors being unknown.

Part 2 deals with the American argument. It disputes the proposition that a neutral Power is bound, at the request of a belligerent, to enforce its municipal laws, and add to them if they are insufficient. It admits that reparation is due for an appreciable injury resulting from a clear violation of international duty, but is unable to attach distinct meaning to some of the twelve propositions of the American case, and demurs to the exceptionally rigorous application made of the propositions to England. It urges that at the time of the Confederate war the mere sale and delivery of a vessel adapted for war to a belligerent was not a violation of neutrality; nevertheless, on this point it accepts the rules of the Treaty of Washington, not with the overstrained construction put upon them by the Government of the United States, but according to their obvious purport. It regrets that the United States should see fit to strain the interpretation of these rules to the utermost, instead of accepting them in a fair and reasonable sense. It argues that England was bound to receive the Alabama as she would a vessel of war of any sovereign State, and concludes by quoting from Ortolan, the eminent French authority on International law, to show that the principles for which the United States contend were never heretofore seriously asserted or recognized in Europe or America.

Part 3 treats of the precedents adduced in the American case, and replies thereto with others, such as the filibustering attacks of Lopez on Cuba, and Walker on Mexico and Central America, and the Fenian raids on Canada. History on this subject is the history of unlawful enterprises originating in America and with American citizens. American privateers have from time to time, harrassed England, Spain Portugal, Mexico, Central America Cuba and Canada.

Part 4 considers the various complaints made of the traffic in munitions of war with the South, blockade-running by British ships, &c.

Part 5 gives the history of the cruisers Sumter and Nashville; complains of being required to meet demands in regard to which the sole difficulty is to treat them as serious.

Part 6 gives an account of the Florida and Alabama, with the details of their escape.—It seeks to show that the time which elapsed between Mr. Adams' application and the Alabama's departure was too short to justify the charge of negligence; and claims that in this respect, England cannot be charged with any failure of duty.

Part 7 is devoted to the history of the Shenandoah and Georgia.

Part 8 relates to the other vessels, and repudiates responsibility of Great Britian for their depredations.

Part 9 treats of the reception of rebel cruisers in British ports, and seeks to defend the conduct of Great Britain by comparing it with that of other nations

Part 10, after recapitulating the facts and arguments of the preceding parts, declares the claim for interest on the damages awarded from July 1, 1863, untenable. The losses which the arbitrators may take into account are, at the utmost, those directly arising from the capture and destruction of ships and property. After describing the situation of anxiety and insecurity in which neutrals would be placed in time of war should the doctrines presented in the American case as to their duties prevail, the counter-case concludes with the expression of a hope that a frank, open statement of facts will effectually remove every misunderstanding between nations allied by innumerable ties.

ABUSE OF OLD HORSES.—I feel a deep sympathy for old horses. It is a common practice in this country to make old horses break the colt and too often work with them for years. It is hard for an old horse to work with a colt or a young active horse. Old horses, like old men, are often capable of performing more hard work than some young ones who can beat them for an hour or more. The old man wants to take a moderate jog and can hold out all day; but a little immoderate exertion for a few minutes unstrings him perhaps for all day. An old horse driven at the top of his speed a few miles spoils the day's journey. When once made sore or strained, the result is stiffness the next day. The old horse should not haul his load to town and then be forced to trot back. It does not injure him as much to do the heavy work with slow motion as to do the light jobs at the fast gait.

Again, the old horse requires more time to eat his meals and rest his nerves. Of all animals the old horse is the worst abused. Although he has been our most faithful and profitable servant, yet in his old age the lash is applied to force out his youthful vigor—the older he grows the more he feels the lash. He is often turned out of doors to give place to the colts. Too often the neglect and abuse he is subjected to, because he is a little old, results in a greater loss than is made up in the care for the young horse.—The last part of a horse's life may be more profitable, if rightly used, than the first part. There is more comfort and less danger in working old horses. We understand them and they understand us; and we should be as willing to contribute to their nature as they are to contribute to our wishes. It would be more humane to shoot a horse than to work him until he becomes worthless, as it will be [illegible] to shoot a man than to let him starve to death. A horse will bear reproach and abuse much more patiently than man; and there may be more intelligent watch than chanceolors. The old servant is gone among strangers, and he receives no sympathy in his last extremity.

We do not blush to say that the man who has enjoyed the profits and pleasures of a good horse as long as he was profitable, and then shoves him off among inhuman jockeys, is an inhuman, treacherous and suspicious friend. The man who does so without regard to how the horse may be cared for is, in my estimation, of a suspicious character; and I never see a horse abused so as to excite pity, but my sympathies are directed to the man's wife and children, also (if he has them.) Readers of the Ohio Farmer, I am not alone in entertaining these sentiments; they are perhaps more general than you are aware, but it seems my lot to express them. —[Ohio Farmer.

The barn of S. D. Frost, of Alexander, was burned recently with eight tons of hay, wagon, two hogs, two sheep and all his farm tools. A valuable horse and the cows were barely rescued by his son only ten years old while the barn was in flames.

Mr. Sawin of Caribou, was quite severely injured last week by the bursting of a bottle. He was dissolving vitriol in sulphuric acid in a bottle. He put in the cork tightly, while the dissolution was going on, and the bottle burst, throwing some of the liquid into one of Mr. Sawin's eyes.

The resignation of Hon. Augustine Haines, who has acted as agent for the Laconia mills for 20 years, has been declined by that company, and a temporary agent appointed. Mr. Haines has made decided improvement in health, and has been able for a moment to take the out door air.

The spring term of the Supreme Judicial Court will open in St. Croix Hall, Calais, Tuesday, April 23d. There is a large number of cases to be disposed of among which are those of the city of Calais vs. C. R. Whidden, and C. R. Whidden's libel suit vs. John Jackson, of the Calais Advertiser.

At the reunion of the employes of the Portland and Kennebec railroad in Augusta, Wednesday evening, Assistant Superintendent Lincoln was presented with a silver service valued at $600 and Road-master Colby with a silver watch and chain valued at $250. Chandler's band furnished the music.

The Republicans of the Third Congressional District will meet in convention at Granite Hall, Augusta, on Tuesday, May 21st for the purpose of nominating candidates for Representative to Forty-third Congress, for Electors of President and Vice-President, also two delegates to the National Republican Convention, to be held at Philadelphia and two alternate delegates to the same convention.

The Argus says a few days since, during a snow squall, a flock of about thirty wild geese flew into the yard of Capt. Alexander, living on Orr's island, and mingled with the tame geese. A boy, A. and a little child seeing them came out and opened the barn door, and the others followed. The doors were closed on them, and the next day thirty good geese were offered for sale in the markets

SAWDUST.—The London Field, one of the highest authorities, says of sawdust:

"I litter the horses on it to the depth of nine inches, raking off the damp and soiled surface every morning, and spreading evenly a little fresh, removing the whole only four or five times a year. Its advantages appear to be many, of which I will state a few which give it, in my estimation, its greater superiority over Straw. It is much cleaner and more easily arranged, and of course much cheaper at first cost, making in the end an excellent manure. It is peculiarly beneficial to the feet, affording them a cool, porous stuffing, a substitute for the soil of earth we always find in the hoofs of a horse at grass, and presents the nearest resemblance to the horses' natural footing—the earth.

"We have never had a diseased foot since the introduction of sawdust in the stable, now some years since. Horses bedded on sawdust are also freer from dusts and stains than when on ordinary litter, simply because sawdust is a better absorbent, perhaps, and testify their approval of it by frequently lying down for hours in the day. It has also the recommendation of being uneatable—an advantage which all in charge of horses with the habit of eating their litter, will readily admit."

A TICKET FOR CINCINNATI

Senators Sumner and Tipton are not alone in their wish to see President Grant out of the Executive chair Herr Schurz has colaborers in Missouri and the philosopher of the Tribune will find a congenial exchange in the Caucussian, published at Lexington Missouri, to the editor of which Mr Greeley addressed one of his earliest letters in the Presidential campaign The paper was originally founded on "protection" to the interests of wool—black and curly wool—and directed that the class engaged in that branch of industry should control the entire government of the country It hates the Republican party and all its works from its resistance to the introduction of slave labor and property into Free Kansas to the adoption of the Fifteenth Amendment It constantly goes for Grant with a dash and ferocity which must endear it to all soreheads, and in its last issue it flies at the head of its editorial columns the significant words—

STATE SOVEREIGNTY!
WHITE SUPREMACY
and

Never despair of the Republic

— OUR PLATFORM

The Constitution of 1860 and the rights of the States"

OUR DOCTRINES

Total Repudiation of the national rebel war debt! That accursed Constitutional burden, accumulated by a Congress, in the interest of an unconstitutional crusade for the accomplishment of a most unconstitutional and horrid purpose

DOWN WITH THE SATRAPS

Equal taxation and the rights of representation of all the States or

A careful consideration of this elegant extract is commended to the patriots who will compose the Cincinnati Convention and if they wholly agree with its sentiments, we should suggest that its editor would be a highly proper man for chairman of its Committee on Resolutions His long experience of antagonism to the principles of which President Grant is the exponent, amply qualifies him to express the sentiment of Schurz Greeley & Co.—N. Y. Standard

This week Bangor raises side by side the banners of the two great movements, for Temperance and Manufactures which have been sweeping through the State We hail the conjunction of these two great interests as promising advantage to both and more than double advantage to the community

The Temperance campaign to be opened to day by the active workers for the cause and to continue for several days with a grand Washingtonian Rally for reform, will be made the most powerful auxiliary of efforts to increase the thrift and prosperity of our town and we hope that old Norombega will rise again with the popular acclamation of the crusade against King Alcohol The meeting at City Hall this evening will be of exception al interest on account of the progress already made by the committees, and the passage of the resolve exempting from taxation for ten years all future improvements and additional capital invested for manufacturing purposes to the extent of $5000 will further insure satisfactory assurance that the City Government proposes a hearty co operation in the effort to develop our industrial facilities

The two movements are calculated to impel our future growth and prosperity hand with industry and temperance as our watch words our city will move swiftly and grandly forward to the prominence and influence which Nature has designed for her

The Portland Press says "We are informed on the best authority that Maine will be represented in the Cincinnati Convention by Hon Jesse S Lyford of Lewiston Mr Lyford held the lucrative office of Collector of Internal Revenue for the Second District from the time of its organization until the accession of President Grant, when finding he could continue he joined the ranks of the disgruntled patriots who pant for reform Mr Lyford exhibited in 1868 a strong desire for Andy Johnson which was of course the best his patriotic devotion to reform Mr Lyford will do well to lead the revolt of disaffectants in Maine

THE BOLTERS It was boasted that Messrs Trumbull and Schurz would with great Republican influence at the Cincinnati Convention but as disinterested lookers on we can see this in the light we present to the position these wire pullers have taken for themselves out of the ranks of the Republican party before they join the opposition and if they march into that motley social mob they will be only arm in arm—not lead a host with them Even Mr Sumner with all the best of motives for the indulgence of personal spite, is not with them He remains after all, true to the principles he has so long professed and over which he has taken pleasure to promote the supremacy He has commended all unselfish and patriotic purposes We have been ready to censure Mr Sumner when we thought he was wrong in his judgment but we for a moment in that situation stood out as record with honest admiration his fatherliness —[Boston Globe

A dispatch published in London states that it is the opinion of the Italian Government that the Geneva Arbitrators ought not to consider the American claims for indirect damages and another telegram says that the same Government has instructed its representative to oppose their consideration. It would be more interesting if the writers of these reports would inform us what the Italian Government has to do with the case. It was requested to name an Arbitrator not a diplomatic agent. The story does not seem credible

Mr William McClelland, the Congressman from the Twenty-fourth Pennsylvania district, is the most prominent Democratic candidate in the western part of that State for Governor.

POLITICAL AND PERSONAL

Hon. Wm Wall, ex-Congressman, died in New York city on Saturday

Lieutenant-Governor Day, who is acting Governor, has called an extra session of the Florida Legislature, to meet April 23.

The Louisiana Democratic State Convention, taking Frank Blair's advice, has adjourned till June 3d and has postponed the nomination of a State ticket until that time.

Andrew Johnson in a recent interview, declared emphatically that he would not be a candidate for the lower branch of Congress, but intimated a desire to go to the Senate,

There is no prospect of Congress at the present session acting upon the memorial of the Utah convention for admission of the State of Deseret.

The Philadelphia "Post" denies the assertion of the Tribune that Major A K Cole ton and Mr William H Kemble of Philadelphia, will attend the Cincinnati Convention Major Calhoun is the editor of the Post and ought to know

It is reported that Congressman Brooks of the Seventh Massachusetts District, will be appointed by the Governor Judge of the Probate of Middlesex County and that ex Governor Claflin will probably be elected to Congress in his place

Senator Goldthwaite has written home to Alabama "Tell the Democracy to stand up square for I am strongly in hopes that day is dawning upon us And yet it is claimed that the Cincinnati movement affords no ground for comfort to the Bourbon Democracy

Not the least significant fact in connection with the Cincinnati movement is the identification therewith of so many ex office holders—men who can hope to exercise no further influence on party politics save through new and strange affiliations

Many Republicans think that Congress can adjourn on the 26th of May. A prominent Republican member says that 19 Democrats have promised to vote with the Republicans, which favor an adjournment at the time stated

The Chicago "Times" protests against the course of the Chicago Tribune and other Republican papers in seeking to change the character of the Cincinnati Convention from a Liberal Republican, as originally announced to a purely Republican Convention, which requires the political annihilation of the Democratic party as well as the defeat of General Grant

The Boston Globe queries "Is it possible that the N Y Tribune said, on a certain occasion that Senator Trumbull was a traitor, a perjurer, and a mind base enough to court infamy? It sounds very much like the style of that journal when it gets excited and the N Y Times gives these words as quoted in the Tribune Now Mr. Greeley locks arms with Senator Trumbull and trudges off to Cincinnati to ride the double-hump camel

The Chicago Post has a scathing criticism on the course of Gov Palmer, showing him guilty of gross hypocrisy and the most deceitful double-dealing and closing in these words "We consign him to the tender mercies of the Cincinnati malcontents, in the hope that they will show themselves sufficiently fools to nominate him for Governor, and sufficiently lunatics to nominate him for President The only documents needed to set him out of sight are the documents giving the utterances of his own mouth Palmer associated with Palmer will be the most effective electioneering tracts ever produced in a political campaign"

The N Y Evening Post thinks that the Cincinnati Convention will nominate a President ticket and that the most conspicuous candidates among whom the choice will no doubt ultimately lie, are Mr Charles Francis Adams, Senator Lyman Trumbull and Governor John M Palmer Of the second place on the fusion ticket, it says

There are several candidates for Vice President who seem to be almost equally worthy and available It is not, indeed, impossible that one of the chief candidates for President may consent to be second on the ticket But there are others who would be almost equally good. Ex-Secretary J D Cox of Ohio and Governor B Gratz Brown, of Missouri, are the most prominent among the Republicans General Joshua L Chamberlain, now President of Bowdoin College, is also well qualified for the position There is some talk of putting the name of a reform German upon the ticket, and the most prominent names are those of Mr William M Groesbeck of Ohio, and Mr Samuel J Tilden of New York, both of whom are ability men and unexceptionable in character

The St John Telegraph regretfully observes "We learn that it was the intention of the owners of the ship William Lorain to run her Charleston Street extension, and recently from Hamburch, to have her refitted and coppered here, but that the high rates of wages prevailing in St John, as compared with Liverpool England, will compel them to take the ship to that port, and have the work done there

At a meeting of liberals in Philadelphia, Saturday to organize a delegation for Cincinnati A K McClure presiding, "General Warren" thought he was wanted to know if he was in the right place He was going to Cincinnati but he could not participate in the movement if the call as published, was binding on those who read it He was engaged on a work looking to the assimilation of the Republican party and was opposed to any candidate nominated by the Philadelphia Convention—Grant or any other man When in Cincinnati he proposed doing all he could to kill the Republican party"

The subscriber tenders his profound acknowledgements to the appreciative citizens of Bangor for the generous patronage they have extended to him for more than the quarter of a century past, during which he has been engaged in piscatorial labors, and he takes this momentous occasion to express his unmistakable belief that they intend to continue that bountiful patronage for more than a quarter of a century longer at the expiration of which he will probably retire with his well earned laurels unless his mind shall undergo a revolution of which he now gives no prospect, and he takes this opportunity to further express his belief, that, if there is anything he knows, it is FISH!

THE ALABAMA CONTROVERSY

THE AMERICAN COUNTER CASE

NEW YORK April 22 It is stated that copies of the counter case presented at Geneva by the United States, have been received at the State Department It is to be sent to Congress to day

FEDERAL BANKS SAYS THE HOUSE WILL PROBABLY SUSTAIN OUR POSITION

The question of consequential damages stands as before and Gen Banks is of opinion that the demand will be sustained by more than two thirds of the House.

OUR GOVERNMENT WILLING TO MAKE A MUTUAL AGREEMENT

Our Government has no objection to the withdrawing of the demand, if Great Britain will agree that in case she shall war with any other country, no demand shall be made on the United States for consequential damages, for any act committed by Americans similar the depredations of the Alabama and other rebel cruisers.

THE AMERICAN COUNTER CASE—COPIES SENT TO CONGRESS

The President to day transmitted for the information of the Senate, a copy of the counter case of the United States in the matter of claims against Great Britain, presented to the Board of Arbitration at Geneva It is stated as follows.—The United States coupled with Her Majesty's Government in the opinion that a claim on the part of a belligerent to be indemnified at the expense of a neutral for losses inflicted or occasioned by the ordinary operations of war, is one which involves grave consideration and requires to be weighed with the utmost care, but the explanatory observations which Her Majesty's Government reserves the right to make in a later stage of the proceedings They cannot say how far they do or do not incur in the further statement that compensation can only justly be awarded by the Tribunal in respect to the losses of which the lack of vigilance of the neutral is the direct and proximate cause It appears to them, however, that certain general considerations may reasonably be assumed by the Arbitrators First, both parties contemplate that the United States will endeavor to establish in the proceedings some tangible connection between the cause and effect between the injuries for which they ask compensation and the acts committed by the several vessels" which the Treaty contemplates are to be shown to be those injuries Second, the Tribunal of Arbitration being a judicial body invested by the parties with the functions necessary for the determining of the issues between them, and being now seized of the substance of the matter in dispute, will hold itself bound by such reasonable and established rules of law as shall define the relation of cause and effect, as they may deem that the parties had in view when they entered into their engagement to make this reference Third, neither party contemplates that the Tribunal will establish or be governed by rules in this effect which will either on the one hand tend to release neutrals from their duty to observe a strict impartiality or on the other hand will make a course of honest neutrality burdensome Having now the issues raised by the case and counter cases of the two Governments to the argument of counsel and to the decision of the Tribunal the United States repeat with strengthened conviction the language with which they closed their case It is the high interest of the two great powers which they represent that the causes of difference which have arisen between them should be speedily and forever set at rest The United States entertains a confident expectation that Her Majesty's Government will concur with them in this position

THE GENEVA CASE

The Duke of Richmond in the House of Lords and M Disraeli in the House of Commons gave notice to-night that they should ask on the Gov't to morrow as to whether it was prepared to give Parliament and the country an assurance that further proceedings before the Geneva Board of arbitration in the Alabama claims will be suspended, unless the claims for indirect damages are withdrawn and abandoned by the Government of the United States

IN THE UPPER HOUSE

In the upper House Lord Granmore wanted to know the papers produced and also the minutes of conversations accompanying the presentation of the British counter case at Geneva. The Record, he believed, would prove humiliating to the country Lord Granville declared that it was degrading to ask the American Government any questions as to the propriety of presenting the counter case replied that there had been no degradation, he described his conversations with Mr Schenck, the American Minister, as entirely personal Mr Schenck agreed to ask the Government at Washington its views of the propriety of the presentation by Great Britain of her counter case and accompanying documents at Geneva. To this inquiry no answer had been received Important News from England!

A Cabinet Crisis at Hand!

Probable Retirement of Gladstone's Ministry!

The Financial Market Affected!

THE TIMES ON THE ARBITRATION.

RUMORS OF A CRISIS—IMPENDING DEFEAT OF THE MINISTRY.

London, April 22d The Times states that it is possible before the close of next week the present Gladstone Cabinet will be dissolved and be succeeded by a conservative ministry and the general election for members of Parliament takes place during the latter part of the summer It is also certain that the Government will be defeated in the Commons when the division occurs on Fawcett's bill relative to the University of Dublin, which has been made a Cabinet question.

CONFLICTING REPORTS.

There are two theories now advanced concerning the political predictonis in the News One is that the Ministry will really resign if defeated on Fawcett's bill, and the other that this announcement is given out for the purpose of filling the Liberal benches at the session to-night. The announcement that the dissolution of he Ministry is possible has flattened the financial market.

THE "TRENT" ON THE GENEVA CASE—NOT SATISFIED WITH THE SITUATION

London, April 22 The Times in alluding to rumors that the United States will withdraw the extraordinary claims and also that they will maintain them, says that perhaps the policy of President Grant consists in keeping the case unsettled until the 15th of June, the time for the reassembling of the Tribunal of Arbitration at Geneva under these circumstances is plain. She should proceed no further in the arbitration if the claims of the American Government for indirect damages are not withdrawn.

RUSSELL'S MOTION URGED

It strongly urges the adoption by Parliament of the motion which Lord Russell announced his intention of introducing for an Address to the Crown for the suspension of the proceedings on the part of Great Britain before the Geneva Tribunal until the American claims for indirect damages are withdrawn

THE PILOT IN FAULT.

The disaster was owing to the fault of the pilot, Michael Edwards, who made off in a boat as soon as he could and he has not been seen since. For a time the position was so dangerous that the ladies were put into boats and many other passengers were transferred to a schooner which came to their assistance No accident. The exercises will doubtless be of great interest to the Order, a number of the members of which are expected to be present from abroad, and all in town are invited.

FIRE IN BURLINGTON. Sunday night, writes our Burlington correspondent, a house owned by Norman Page and occupied by Robert Nutter, was destroyed by an accidental fire, with nearly all its contents—nothing being saved but a few chairs. Mr. Nutter is a poor, hard-working man, and the loss must fall heavily upon him at this time.

—James Kellen, who recently came out from serving a sentence in the House of Correction, got a job of painting in the house of B. N Thoms, esq, a day or two ago, and improved the opportunity by stealing several shirts, brushes, etc., and then making himself scarce. —Two men who had previously had trouble in the woods during the winter, met in front of the National House yesterday afternoon, and proceeded to re-discuss their difficulties. Several knock-down arguments were used, and, finally one of them drawing a knife tried to stab the other, who by a quick dodge escaped all injury but the loss of a piece of cloth and a button from his vest Here the bystanders interfered and both parties were hustled out of sight before the arrival of the police.

DARING ASSAULT Last evening about seven o'clock three young ladies while walking quietly along, were assaulted on the corner of York and Essex sts. by a number of young roughs, who rushed out and seized them, at the same time using the most obscene and profane language. Fortunately the screams of the young ladies were heard by a muscular gentleman not far off, who hurried up and rescued them, but not until their clothing was badly torn in the struggle with the rascals. This was a most daring assault, and we hope the perpetrators may be ferreted out and receive the punishment which is their just due. As usual, there was the common talk about the police not being on the spot, but with a half dozen men to patrol the city, the beats are necessarily very long, and it cannot be expected that a man at one time can be expected to be on every part of a mile of streets.

TEMPERANCE The Grand Lodge I. O. of G. T. of Maine, will hold its fourteenth annual session at Music Hall in this city, commencing this afternoon at two o'clock and continuing through to-morrow, and perhaps Thursday, unless the business of the session is sooner completed. The session will be opened in the Grand Lodge Degree, following which will be the instruction of the new delegates in the Degree. The Lodge will then open in subordinate Degree and listen to the Grand Officer's reports and proceed to the transaction of the business of the session.—After the opening and initiation exercises, all members of the Order will be admitted for the remainder of the session.

On this and to-morrow evening public temperance meetings will be holden, the former in Music Hall and the latter in Norombega. These public meetings will be attended by all friends of temperance without reference to their connection with the Order of Good Templars. Mayor Wheelwright will preside and our citizens generally will aid in making the meeting a success. Able speakers are expected from abroad, among whom are Gov. Parham, Rev. G H. Vibbert, Hon. Joshua Nye, and Dr. Brickett and Mr. Osgood, the former President of the Reform Club of Augusta, and the latter President of the Club of Gardiner.

OBSTRUCTIONS TO SIDEWALKS. Several correspondents complain that a great many signs and awnings over the sidewalks in this city hang so low as to interfere with the heads of pedestrians, while the walks are encumbered with boxes and goods, rendering passage perilous, and they wish us to publish the following from the city ordinance entitled "Injurious Practices" the penalty for the violation of these sections being "not less than one dollar, nor more than twenty dollars".—

Sec. 21. No person shall hang, or cause to be hung, any goods, or other thing, over any side-walk, nor suffer any spout to lead water on the same over the head of any person, nor hang, or fasten, or suffer to be hung or fastened from any house, store, shop, or lot owned by him, or in his possession, or hang, affix or fasten to any building not his own, or in his possession, any flag or banner of any description, which shall project more than [illegible] feet over the street or side-walk in the city.

Sec. 22. No person shall place or affix any awning or shade over any street, alley, or square in the city, which shall project over any curve, nor retain any awning or shade so placed or affixed, after twenty-four hours notice to remove the same, given by the City Marshal, or his deputy, unless such awning or shade shall extend to the outer line of the side-walk and be safely affixed to and entirely supported from the building above, and be in the lowest part thereof not less than seven feet above the street under it.

Sec 23. No person shall hang or affix any sign or show-case to any house, store, shop, or lot in this city, or place any sign or show-case in front thereof, nor retain any sign or show case already so hung, affixed or placed, after twenty-four hours notice to remove the same, given by the City Marshal or his deputy, unless such sign or show-case shall be attached to, and supported entirely from the building above, and not project more than one foot therefrom over the street, nor be, in its lowest part, less than seven feet above the same

THE SEWING MACHINE

A strange vibration from the cottage window
By vagrant steps I lingered lazy
And the fabricated like an ancient Hindoo
I paused beneath the shade.

What is I said, this unremitted humming,
Louder than bees in spring?
An unseen voice the unmurmuring answer coming
Shot from Saadaiphon's wing

Is this the sound I musing replied labor
That now is urgent play?
Our heralds sub tuning for pipe and tabor,
Gluttons and revelry

Or is it yearning for a higher vision
By spiritual hearing heard?
Nearer I drew to listen with precision
Detecting in a word

Then peering through the pane as men of [illegible]
Myself the like unseen
I marked a maiden seated by the window
Sewing with a machine

Her gentle hand the seam

Some imperceptible taste

And thus the hum of the unspoiling [illegible]
But with her rythmic tread

ROLLING GRAIN IN THE SPRING It is a practice with some grain growers to roll the young plants in the spring which has to start the preceding autumn We believe it is practiced by extensive wheat growers in England We have not tried it and should be glad if some of our readers would experiment by rolling a portion of some fields of grain, and leave a part unrolled and note the difference

Frost occasionally throws wheat plants out of the ground, so that many of them perish We can see that in such cases rolling would press many of them back into the soil where their roots would find moisture which would enable them to continue their growth It would also close the cracks and fissures which should as the surplus water of heavy rains drains off — Partially burying the crown of the plant would certainly cause the grain to tiller better, and send up more seed stalks

Another advantage would be rending the inequality of surface and soil another big crowning small stones into the soil where there are any and getting them out of the way of the grain is mowed by hand or by the mowing machine —[N E Farmer

EARLY TURNIPS —Those farmers who are sufficiently near a good market to drive in daily with a team, may find the cultivation of early white turnips a profitable crop We have known it to prove largely remunerative. They will remove a warm rich mellow soil — The manure used should be well rotted, so as to afford nutriment at once to the plants.—Good superphosphate of lime will be of essential service

It is said that a mixture of lime, salt and ashes dusted on the young plants while the dew is on them, for several mornings in succession, will prevent the ravages of the little black fly which usually attacks them. The crop should be kept entirely free from grass and weeds, and the ground frequently stirred about the plants. When sufficiently grown, pull them without bruising the leaves, wash the bulbous roots, and bind up in bundles; this condition they will sell much better in price, much more than they will bring in selling by measure.—[Ex.

HERE you have a salve combining soothing and healing properties with no dangerous ingredient. A remedy it is and for the many pains and relieves wounds and bruises to which flesh is heir. Its more easily applied than many other remedies, never producing a bad effect but always a healing pain however severe.

It is prepared by Miss Sawyer, who has used it in her own extensive treatment of the sick, for nearly twenty years, with great success

The principal diseases for which this salve is recommended are Chilblains, Rheumatism, Piles, Scrofula Old Ulcers, Salt Rheum Sprains Burns, Fever Sores, Felons Pimples, Erysipelas, Sore Eyes, Barber's Itch, Deafness, Boils, Ringworm, Corns, Bites of Insects Cancers, Toothache, Earache, Sore Nipples, Baldness, Swollen Breasts, Itch, Scald Head, Nettle Rash, Chapped Hands, Scalds, Cuts Bruises, Crosp, Cracked Lips, and Sores on Children

For Erysipelas it works wonders, allaying the inflammation and quieting the patient For Chapped Hands it produces a cure immediately Let those with Salt Rheum obtain this Salve, and apply it freely, and they will find it invaluable. It eradicates dandruff and disease from the head, and blotches and pimples from the face

From Mrs ELIZABETH COOMBS, Brunswick.

Brunswick, April 4, 1867.

Miss SAWYER I received your letter last evening and was very glad you concluded to let me take your Salve I think I can do well with it, and it will be quite an accomodation to my husband, as he cannot get along without it He has tried everything else and has never found anything that healed his leg so as that Salve of yours, and we have both found it to be all and even more, than you recommend it to be. We have had it in the family five or six years, and have used it for every thing, and can truly say we have never found it equal. I use it for a weak back, and it acts like a charm Mr. Coombs has had a Fever Sore on his leg for thirty years and would be a cripple to-day if he had not found a remedy in your Salve It keeps it healed, and takes out the inflammation, spoiled flesh and swelling, and does for him all that is can ask. I can recommend it for a good many things that you have not, for I use it for everything. I consider it invaluable in a family If you can put this testimony together, and it can be of any service to you, you are welcome.

Yours, &c., ELIZABETH COOMBS.
